Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-12, drawn to a method of packing and preparing meat, classified in class 426, subclass 393.
- II. Claims 13-28, drawn to a packaged meat product, classified in class 426, subclass 129.
- III. Claims 29-31, drawn to bag for packaging and cooking meat, classified in class 428, subclass 35.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

The package as claimed in Group II can be used in methods other than that recited in Group I. For example, the packaged product could be used in a process wherein the packaged product is not frozen but only refrigerated. Also, the packaged product of Group II could be stored frozen or refrigerated in a different bag and placed in the bag just for cooking. Further, the bag could be used only as a storage bag, and the product cooked in some heating system without the bag. In regard to the bag of Group III, the bag could be used to package and/or store products other than meat. For example, the bag could be used to package and/or store vegetables or even inedible articles such as medical equipment. Note, too, the package of Group II does not require the bag of Group III since the bag of Group III is free of openings other than the opening at the second end.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art requiring separate searches as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1761

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
